

Week ahead
Week beginning 23/2/2

We hope that you all enjoyed the half term holiday.

Before half term the children thought about what they would like to be when they grew up, this ranged from being police officers, doctors to sharks and unicorn mermaids!

This week we be learning all about emotions - thinking about what makes us and others happy and sad. We will also think about how to help each other and how to deal with our own emotions.

Reminder - Books and maths games need to be returned on a Monday.

New books come home on Tuesday and Maths games on Thursday.

If you have any questions please ask at the beginning or end of the session.
